Great indignation in business circles at conduct of Chambers in sending back unanswered and unopened protest of merchants against financial schemes. The whole country resists National Bank scheme which, if Government and Legislature attempt to push through, will cause a general liquidation.

Telegrams received from London state that the money will not be advanced in that market for any such scheme.

Banks here refuse all discounts save to their best customers.

Export trade active. Great killing going on at Cerro Largo; shipment of beef in bales for Brazil.

Money market artificially tight and stocks falling; large amounts of gold expected from Buenos Aires.

CHUPAT WINS.

Mr. Jones leaves for Chupat this morning in the steamer Bahia Blanca, after a long stay of two months.

Our readers will not soon forget the extraordinary manner in which he came up this time—a prisoner for "desacato al Gobierno," and treated as such for 36 hours, to the disgrace of our subaltern officialism. However, no sooner was the matter presented to the Minister of Interior, than he at once ordered his release, and the affair ended in smoke. Our only fear was lest the natural indignation of Mr. Jones and the colonists should be roused to such a pitch as to induce them to commit some palpable offence. But whilst we have been engrossed with the multitude of daily events turning up, and losing sight of the Chupat grievance, Mr. Jones has been quietly working up his "asunto," and we are extremely happy in informing the public that things have come round to a very satisfactory termination, as we felt sure they would when once properly brought before Dr. Irigoyen.

In the first place, the decree goes forth THAT THE CHUPAT COLONISTS ARE TO ELECT THEIR JUEZ DE PAZ AND MUNICIPALITY. This was the point at issue, and it is won. The Comisario returns, but simply to put this in force. He may endeavour to obstruct the consummation, but he has to deal with experienced, enlightened men, backed by a community of common sense.

Then a Welsh schoolmistress goes down in charge of the National School, which does away with the farce of the school grievance.

Eighty more title deeds for farmers are going down, which adds enormously to the stability and content of the people. There was an attempt made to mystify this, and attach some conditions to their delivery; but this was found to be a vulgar pretence.

When we add to this that a larger printing press and additional type are already on their way, as also a church harmonium and private piano, it will be seen that "Chupat wins" verdaderamente. Bravo our countrymen!

We are only sorry that this news was not in our Packet Edition, as we know it is anxiously looked for in England. Not an immigrant has come from Wales ever since this trouble was brewed, though thousands are ready to come here when it is known that petty tyranny will not be exercised over them. This Welsh immigration is the only British popular tide to the Republic, and, we may add, it is the only possible way of populating Patagonia; hence the great interest felt in it in England, even by the capitalists, as an index of the progress of the country. When this news goes home, Mr. Navarro will have to be ready to forward many more heavily-luggaged Welsh immigrants.

LONDON LETTER

(From our Own Correspondent.)

OPENING OF THE SESSION.

February 16, 1883.

Three events anxiously looked for by newsmongers duly came off yesterday, but have left little worthy of relation. Parliament was opened, the Bradlaugh demonstration occurred, and the Dublin inquiry was resumed. The Queen's speech contained nothing of interest, but in the presence of 30,000 of Mr. Bradlaugh's supporters, in the neighbourhood of the Houses of Parliament, Lord Hartington announced that the Attorney-General would bring in an Affirmation Bill, which Sir Richard Cross, on behalf of the Opposition, declared his intention of opposing to the utmost. On this becoming known, Mr. Bradlaugh expressed his intention of waiting to see the fate of the new Bill, before again presenting himself at the table of the House. The 30,000 demonstrators, upon hearing this, quietly dispersed. Mr. Bradlaugh seems to fear that the Government will not make the Bill retroactive. In this case, he will have to present himself again to his Northampton constituents, who will be needlessly put to the expense of a new election.

The Morning Post accuses the Government of being browbeaten by the army of blasphemers in Trafalgar-square. The accusation is not wholly true, but it is in some sense deserved and the action of the Liberal Ministry in this affair is of a piece with many other of their proceedings, and shows how they are clogged by a half-heartedness in some of the members of the Government that may ultimately upset it. As Lord Salisbury, in his speech observes, "the Government manages to move gingerly amongst burning questions without singeing itself by touching them."

Everything seems to have been calculated to procure a quiet session, to use up arrears of questions, such as the Bankruptcy Act, Patent Laws, Amended Ballot, Criminal Law, Corrupt Practices at Elections, &c. &c. The great effort of the session will be the City of London Corporate Reform.

The Ministerial programme is, in many respects, a wise one if next session, or in 1884, they can calculate on a majority in an appeal to the constituencies, for the Ministry judge rightly that "burning questions" are of two kinds: questions to go out upon, and questions to get in again with; and as all reforms of the electorate will necessitate a dissolution, it is better to use this session to bring up arrears of important bills thrown aside hitherto to make room for Irish legislation. The only brilliant speech at the opening of Parliament was that of Lord Salisbury; but it was not serious, and really all the solid matter we can squeeze out of the usual six or eight columns of talk, were the statements made by Lord Granville and Lord Hartington in regard to Egypt. Their lordships reiterated that Great Britain had no intention of exercising a Protectorate over Egypt, much less of annexing it, and that the British troops in occupation would probably return within six months.

The next business on our list, the Dublin conspiracy, from the evidence on which so much was expected yesterday turned out a very mild affair indeed. The attempts at identifying the prisoners engaged in the Phœnix Park murders was followed up, but was not strikingly successful. The case is adjourned until to-morrow when something more sensational may occur. The accused are reported to have lost much of their jaunty air, and to be impressed with the seriousness of the slowly unfolding evidence against them. A man named Smith, an employee in the Castle-Yard Board of Works Office, was arrested in Dublin to-day on a charge of being concerned in the Phœnix Park murders.

Amongst an unusually long list of notices of motion lodged yesterday was one by Mr. Justin M'Carthy for the abolition of the Irish Viceroyalty. It is expected that if the Government Affirmation Bill passes a second reading, Lord Randolph Churchill will move a resolution that in future speeches from the throne the words "Beseeching Almighty God now, as heretofore, to bless your labours," be omitted.

If the House of Lords reject the Affirmation Bill, as they are likely to do, the Government will have to submit, as the country is not quite ripe for a general election on the question of matter v. spirit. Sir Henry James is pretty safe to get his working majority on the question—the previous question I mean—in the House of Commons.

The Affirmation Bill and the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill will again give in this session the Lords Temporal and Spiritual a chance of asserting their authority, but, alas! which-ever way either question is decided, the result can only be adverse to their existence as a separate power in the State, as Lord Reay, in a very boxing-about kind of speech said in seconding the Address to the Crown—"The manners and institutions of England and the United States will be more and more assimilated from the growing intimacy of the two countries." His scientific lordship has recently been taking a turn in the States, and his rather plebeian sentiments, duly tempered by those proper to an English or Scotch landed proprietor, somewhat alarmed the less advanced members of the Upper House.

Whilst in England the lion and the unicorn are fighting for the crown, the Gallic cock is pluming itself in retreat. People are literally astonished to see how well a country like France gets along without any Government at all. They begin to believe in the last of political theories—l'Arnachie. The Senate on one side, and M. Fouquet on the other, seem to agree on some sort of compromise in regard to the Expulsion Bill. The compromise has been proposed, curiously enough, by an old secretary and friend of Prince Napoleon's, M. Barbey, a naval officer. It is hardly worth while to enter into particulars. The real business of the nation will only recommence when the interlude of the Expulsion Bill is over, and M. de Freycinet or M. Ferry choose to form a Ministry. In the meantime, whilst Englishmen of business are, some of them, drawing long faces at the unfavourable Board of Trade returns, and prophesy that we are going to the dogs, the French exports for January 1883 show an increase of 6,412,000 francs over those of January 1882, and her imports have increased by nearly 26 millions of francs. The great increase of imports show that this result cannot be due to Protection. The reason of the prosperity of France is due to her prudence, thirft and the stimulus given to trade by a large and thriving agricultural population, unencumbered by "pheasant proprietors."

The Pall-Mall Gazette, which in trade and finance is certainly not optimist in its views, tries to reassure us that the volume of British trade continues to maintain itself, and that it is only our customers in the United States who are at present buying less compared with phenomenal times a few years ago. The heavy failures in the iron trade in the States and the number of people who have been thrown out of employment, and the check which has been given within the last year to speculation business in that country has affected certain trades here; the causes are of a nature to lead rather to hopes of an improved demand in the States for English manufactures. Firstly, on account of the greater healthiness of tone in business generally in the U. States compared with that of a year or two ago; and, secondly, on account of the crash in the iron and steel manufactures which were brought into existence by Protection, who, personified as a mother, is doomed sooner or later to devour her own progeny. If only iron and steel were protected that might answer, but, of course, the American manufacturers are finding out in the long run particular interests cannot compete with a country like England in which food, labour and all materials, raw and manufactured, are cheap.

I find in the Evening News of to-day a very interesting letter on "sheep stock and wool." I send it to you The main point is one in which I have made many researches, in preparing statistics in regard to the Wool Exhibition at the Crystal Palace in 1881. The writer of the letter, on the authority of an extensive sheepfarmer at Newmarket, alludes to the importance of temperature in the management of sheep, and the benefit of sheering when the wool is possessed of the natural grease. From repeated experiments it has been found that however perfect the construction of wool may be, if produced in the absence of an oily and sopanacious substance, it cannot possess in an eminent degree the milling properties of a clothing material. "And I feel assured," he says, "that we have the concurring testimony of every wool manufacturer who has tested the comparative merits of wool produced from salved and unsalved sheep in the manufacture of milled tweeds, that a greater number of yards—it being understood they are reduced to the same degree of cleanness—can be produced from the latter; and it will not only be superior in quality and make but of greater durability. It is therefore the imperative duty of landed proprietors and sheepfarmers to adopt these measures which are best calculated to produce a fleece most suited for being fabricated into that description of goods to which so large a proportion of wool is now appropriated."

These platitudes are worth quoting to show the direction of the wool trade in England. And in reality it does not refer so much to "tweeds" as to the finer clothes for which the River Plate wools are so suited once the English manufacturers adopt the machinery necessary to clear them of burr. Little by little the French system of carding is gaining ground in Bradford, and the manufacturers there will very soon eclipse the Continental makers who at present use such a large proportion of both the Australian and River Plate wools. There is no question so important to our wool growers as this. The same authority I have quoted estimates the present stock of sheep at 5 millions—that is about one-third of the stock in Uruguay alone. The wet seasons go on diminishing the stock in this country, and at the same time the English long-fibred and lustrous but coarser wool is less and less adapted to the clothing material now and likely to remain in fashion.

THE DUBLIN MURDERS.

DESCRIPTION OF "NUMBER ONE."

The Dublin Correspondent of the Daily Telegraph contributes the following particulars as to the person who was styled "Number One," and who organised the Assassination Committee:—

"As will be seen by the evidence, this man never allowed his name to be known; he always signed himself 'No. 1,' and was designated by the members of the organization 'General.' He is an Irish-American, but has resided in France and Germany for lengthened periods at different times During the last year and a half he was in the habit of visiting Dublin at frequent intervals. During his sojourns in Dublin he used invariably to stop either at one of the principal hotels in the city or at a well-known marine hotel situated a short distance from the city, near Blackrock, where Carey in his evidence deposed to having had an interview with him last summer. This man had apparently unlimited money at his disposal, and an inquiry addressed by a large business establishment in Dublin, with which he had some financial transactions, to a large banking firm in Paris, which he gave as a reference, was replied to in the following manner:—'The gentleman in question has seemingly unlimited means, derived from large drafts in his favour from America.' 'General' is a man of about fifty years of age, 5ft. 10½in. in height, full face, clean shaved, except a long, fair moustache, which is inclined to be reddish. He has a military bearing, and is slightly lame from the effect of a wound he received during the Franco-Prussian war, in which he served in the capacity of a minor officer in the Franc-Tireurs, and he also saw some service in the American war. During last summer he was in the habit of visiting Dublin frequently, and it is now found that the periods at which he is known to have been in the city coincide with the dates at which Carey states he had interviews with him. His last appearance in Dublin was about two months ago, and since then all trace has been lost of him. The police, since Carey has furnished them with information, are diligently endeavouring to get on his track, but have succeeded in doing little more up to the present than getting the dates of his visits as furnished by the registers at the two hotels referred to; but they are confident of obtaining sufficient information to trace his whereabouts on the Continent or in America, where they believe him to be."

Carey's testimony causes great consternation among the Irish in New York, especially the intimation that the assassins had Land League money. The Star, an Irish organ, has an attack on Carey, accusing him of abject cowardice. In joining the prosecution to save his own neck, it says, he has joined the conspiracy of the Castle against the people, and his perfidy ought to be a warning against further attempts to associate crime with Irish patriotic movements.

The Irish Times of to-day says:—What Farrell knew slightly, and Kavanagh in the least degree, of the secret bond and design, Carey assumes to know to a vastly greater extent, though even Carey himself was a subordinate, and 'No. 1' must yet come forth upon the scene. As to the murders Carey had everything to reveal, and his associates get no sparing. To his motives or his shame there is no occasion to allude in its defence. Against the most unprovoked and foulest plot that ever has been followed by signal retribution, Society is called upon to use without scruple such weapons as it finds. There is this vast distinction in the case, that it has not fashioned them itself. No one has been betrayed by treacherous counterplot, justifiable as in extreme circumstances that might be. This testimony is volunteered. The conspiracy breaks up of its own weight and strain; its own subtlety proved a weakness and a snare. No one hesitates to accept in general the revelations that have been offered, or believes now that the assassination mystery in England or here can escape the thorough scrutiny applied for its exposure with all the sanctions of outraged humanity. The one allegation of Carey that, apart from the crimes of blood, transcends the rest in gravity, is the belief which not only he himself but his companions entertained as to the chest from which came the money placed at his command for purposes of specific guilt, and up to the largest amount. On the momentous matter of the funds, we hold our breath and wait. Carey has declared that there was no certainty among the 'Invincibles' where these came from—some said from America and some from the Land League.

The Freeman's Journal says the mystery is as yet only half unfolded, and we must wait the denouement before pronouncing a verdict. There is a prospect now, however, of its being sounded to the very bottom, and even of the mysterious 'No. 1,' if he exists, finding his way into the dock, and eventually to the gallows. It will be the prayer of every honest man that it may be so. Horrible as are the details—some, doubtless, true; some, probably, false—of the story now being unfolded at Kilmainham, there cannot but be a feeling of great relief and satisfaction if eventually those concerned in the most atrocious crimes of modern times are brought to justice; but th think it lay in the hearts of Irishmen to conceive, or the hands of Irishmen to execute, crimes so diabolical as those recorded, must fill lovers of their country with bitter shame and humiliation. Still, even from facts so awful good may come, if only those able are disposed to profit by them.

The Daily Express says:—Carey has told upon other villains, not inferior to himself, and he has told that it was the opinion of the majority of his associates that the blood-money which supported them came from the Land League. To establish this fact beyond doubt should be the aim of the Crown officers. If they should succeed in so doing, they would render the greatest service that has ever been rendered to Ireland.

THE NATIONAL LAND AND LABOUR LEAGUE.

In Irish circles in London rumours are afloat as to the probable suppression by Government of the National Land and Labour League, the organization which succeeded to the National Land League. For some time several of the leading members of this organization have been under police surveillance in London, and two public-houses in the West-end, suspected to be the resort of members of Irish secret societies, have been closely watched by detectives. An opinion is expressed that the assassination plots are the outcome of O'Donovan Rossa's "Skirmishing Fund," the London committee of which was presided over by "Mr Armstrong," the clerical-looking person, under whose orders Thomas Walsh, arrested in connection with the seizure of arms in Clerkenwell, acted. The police have information that this person escaped to Paris at the time of Walsh's arrest.

ARREST OF MRS. BYRNE.

Two detectives from Scotland-yard went yesterday at one o'clock to the house of Mr. Frank Byrne at Peckham and arrested his wife and sister-in-law on a charge of conspiracy to murder. Mrs. Byrne and her sister were taken to King-street Police-station, Peckham, where they were refused permission to communicate with each other. At six o'clock, however, Mrs. Byrne's sister was discharged, she having been arrested merely as a precautionary measure, as the police were not at first sure which of them was Mr. Byrne's wife, as they are very much alike in appearance. The house was carefully searched, but no document or arms were discovered. Mr. Frank Byrne, who is secretary to the Land and Labour League of Great Britain, is abroad, having been ordered to the south of Europe "for his health, which has been for some time in an exceedingly precarious condition."

The man Walsh, implicated in the evidence given by the informer James Carey, is well known at Middlesbrough. For the past 15 years he has been looked upon as a Fenian Centre for the North of England, having been known for about that period to leave Middlesbrough at intervals for Newcastle, Sunderland, and other places, but it was never anticipated that he was a member —and an organising member, as testified now at Kilmainham—of the "Directory" mentioned by Carey. In 1879 he solicited to be allowed to join the Trades Council formed in Middlesbrough, for what purpose may be surmised; but he was refused, as not being a tradesman of any kind. About 18 months ago, on the occasion when the Bradford Fenian Tobin was arrested here, subsequently getting convicted because fire-arms were found in his house at Bradford, Walsh was in a public-house in Middlesbrough, where the message of the arrest reached him. He suddenly disappeared out of the town for a prolonged period. Some two years ago he was in America, and it is thought that since that visit he may have joined the "Directory" referred to, and come into authority. He has been in Middlesbrough within the last four weeks.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 18th

The present very unsatisfactory condition of the Republic is due, not to the hostility of its foes but to the errors of its friends. The country is commencing to lose confidence in the existing form of Government. Every person is dissatisfied. Business has come to something like a stand-still, and legislators instead of providing a remedy only aggravate the disorder or make confusion more confounded. Indeed there exists not a resemblance between the situation now and that which induced Prince Louis Napoleon in 1851, to quit "légalité pour rentrer dans le droit."

The affair of the Princes is not so much a difficulty as a symptom. They are a danger for the republic the republicans avow. This admission is the more serious as hitherto the Republic claimed to be indifferent to attacks. Now it has to defend itself as if a royal or imperial régime. The Odyssey of the Princes' Exclusion bill between the Chamber and the Senate—the term "Upper House" has been voted to be a reflection on the representatives—partakes of the comical and the pitiable. The Senators under the menace of being abolished, will likely swallow the leek, and vote the amendments of the Chamber, so that the new law will invest the President with the right to expel any member of the once-reigning families who may dabble in politics and such can easily be construed into playing at pretender. Trial becomes thus superseded by a ukase—the old game in this land.

But how meet the difficulty of expelling the princes now on active service from the army, and of disqualifying others on the half-pay list? Simply by the Government executing the law of 1831 authorizing it to remove any officer from command as may be deemed necessary. The present War Minister, General Thibaudin, states he is ready to execute this law, and the Jacobin influences which weigh on the situation will immediately call on him to so do his duty.

Another hard nut the same influences insist on having cracked, consists in the demand to get at liberty Prince Kropotkine and his fellow prisoners condemned for their socialistic opinions. These latter are viewed as innocence itself, in reference to a disturbing influence on the public peace, when compared with the placard, extra-parliamentary utterances of Prince Napoleon, acquitted with all honors.

One is inclined to laugh when dealing with the question of the Ministry. The Executive only represents the provisional or an inter-regnum—the latter promising to be as permanent as the former. Having resigned, Ministers resemble the speaking "decapitated head," they express just the same a collective opinion on questions under discussion. And when a deputy calls them a pack of cowards, they draw lots to select one of their own to demand satisfaction from the insulter, who at once avows he only employed the word in the Pickwickian sense.

Whether de Freycinet or Ferry constitute the new Cabinet, its duration will only be ephemeral. France is not ripe for parliamentary Government. Her legislators are untrained in parliamentary manners. Each member has a programme of his own calculated to make France great, glorious and free in twenty-four hours; others of more enlarged views seek to obtain in addition the millennium; but all want to be a Minister as the stepping stone to become President. There is no discipline, no sincere and continued obedience to a leader. There are sects and coteries but no defined parties. When Gambetta failed to create form out of the chaos, what can pigmies effect?

There can be no Ministry then of any duration, for a Cabinet is based not on a programme, but on names. Hence, the slightest unexpected incident scatters the mosaic Ministry. M. Grevy commences to be more closely looked after. He is suspected not only of reigning but of governing, and the "occult influence" which was placed to the account of Gambetta, has now been transferred to M. Wilson, the President's son-in-law. The pitchforking of de Freycinet once more into office, who is a capital engineer but a ninny of a statesman, brings Leon Say well to the front as the future President of the Republic.

The leading merchants of the capital—all republicans, have waited on M. Grevy, and pointed out to him the lamentable condition of the trading and commercial worlds. The other cities will follow suit. This event speaks volumes, and dispenses with the crocodile tears of the monarchists over the ruin of the country and its lost prestige. Other medicine men attribute the deplorable state of affairs, not to the decomposition of politicians but to the decadence of France, whose motto has become 'Ichabod.'

The Anarchists are in their glory and are making hay while their sun shines. Thus Felix Pyat in his 'Vengeur' urges M. Grevy to install the Commune in order to save society and protect France, while the dandy workman Guesde, who is candidate for the legislative vacancy caused by Gambetta's death, advocates among other small reforms, the sponging out of the National Debt, the abolition of railways and banks, the suppression of employers, and the arming of the nation. That's what powerfully helps to make pretenders.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

It is reported that the new ironclad Riachuelo will be launched on the 14th inst.

Two steam launches for the marine school on the Ilha das Enxadas are soon to be constructed at the marine arsenal.

According to the last enumeration there where 35,855 slaves in the city of Rio de Janeiro on the 30th of June 1882.

The November receipts of the state telegraph department amounted to 73,707$776, and the expenses to 37,-835$310, leaving a surplus of 35,-872$426.

The 415th anniversary of the death of Gutenberg was celebrated in this city on the 24th ult. There was a procession through the various streets of the city.

The Emperor has conferred the 'commenda' of the Order of the Rose upon Nathaniel Barnaby, Esq. director of naval construction to the British admiralty, for services rendered in the construction of the Riachuelo.

The heavy rain storm which visited this city on the morning of the 2d inst. caused great inconveniences in various parts of the city, through the flooding of the streets and the washing down of mud and gravel from the hills.

By a dispatch of the 24th ult. the Minister of Agriculture responds to a petition of the telephone company of this city against the use of telephones by the district telegraph company, that such use would be a violation of the telephone company's privilege, and that he has instructed the telegraph bureau to take measures to check any such action.

According to the Rio Grande papers of the 14th ult. a telegram had just been received there from the Minister of War, ordering that Col. Frias Villar should be set at liberty. This great leniency on the part of our bucolic War Minister was due unquestionably to the decision of the inspector general to put the imprisoned officer on the retired list in accordance with his petition.

A recent presentation of some old manuscripts to the public archives by the director of the national museum has led to a laughable complication. On the following day all the daily papers contained laudatory notices of the director and his gift, and, strangely, they were all exactly alike, word for word and point for point. The Revista Ilustrada called attention to this remarkable unanimity of opinion, and now the director is trying to explain how some one else wrote the notice without his knowledge.

Owing to the detection of a large number of counterfeit 10$ notes of the new issue, series C, green, both here and in San Paulo, our readers will do well to be on their guard in receiving them. The counterfeiters seem to have succeeded in putting a large quantity of them in circulation.

We regret to note the death of Charles Rainsford, Esq., of this city, which occurred on the morning of the 3rd inst. Mr Rainsford had been long known here in connection with Messrs. Wilson, Sons & Co., agents of the Pacific Mail Co., and leaves a wide circle of business acquaintances and friends.

THE AMERICAN PRESS ON FRANCE.

The present condition of France is a striking exhibition of the inaptitude of that country for a republic. Dispatches tell us that "Gambetta's death has thrown the whole working machine of France out of gear." This means that French politics can have no cohesion without a leader. And a leader under a republic is a self-contradiction. A republic means government by the people, as distinguished from government by the individual. Gambetta, it now appears, has been the uncrowned leader of France. It is the natural order of things that a leader in a republic and especially a republic with recent imperial antecedents, should ultimately gain the crown; and current events plainly indicate that, but for the fate which befel him, that was Gambetta's ultimate destiny. A republic is an impossibility for a people among whom the habit of hero-worship is so deeply intrenched as it is in the whole history and habitudes of Frenchmen. It was natural enough that the mere idea of a political liberty should, at first, so far fascinate a class of Frenchmen led by a bold and popular leader as to make them willing to accept the Republic; especially as it was easier, at the moment, to take that course than to settle conflicting claims of several pretenders to the throne; but their political habits are more potent than their intellectual preferences; and the proof of this appears in the fact that this class had already made Gambetta their virtual King and only wanted the opportunity to make him such actually. Whatever, therefore, may be the outcome of the present crisis, we can hardly dare to hope that France will rank among the permanent demonstrations of the beneficence of republican government—New York Bulletin.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The R. M. S. Minho sailed, at last, yesterday. She took a heavy mail, and the passengers had a nice day for embarking—cloudy, yet calm—but the sky looked very like a coming "temporal," which the travellers may probably have an opportunity of enjoying at the mouth of the Plate. We wish them all a pleasant voyage to the Old World.

The trial in Dublin is the great topic in English-speaking circles. All rejoice at these modern Thugs being at last hunted down. The next mail will probably bring further startling disclosures, as the proceedings reported in the latest papers to hand (19th Feb.) were resumed that day in Dublin, and the counsel for the Crown were expected to bring forward further highly important evidence on that day.

On Sunday next there will be a distribution of handsome prizes to the children of the Scotch Sunday School. These prizes are one of the innumerable gifts to the School by Mr Thomas Drysdale. The parents and friends of the children are invited to attend.

There is a letter for Mrs. Turner at the Scotch Church.

We return our best thanks to Mr C S Bowers for the beautiful present he sent us yesterday—a superb lithograph of the front pages of the principal newspapers of the United States, with portraits of the "Representative Journalists" of that great country. They are a splendid-looking group of men, with the veteran Thurlow Weed in the centre. James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald, is by far the youngest of the lot, and appears a mere boy. We invite our friends to call and see this work of art.

We have to apologise to an esteemed subscriber for allowing his messenger to go away yesterday without the Mauritius paper. We hold it at his disposal.

The papers were full of awful crimes yesterday. At Ayacucho a French puestero was barbarously murdered (24 stabs) under the same circumstances as poor Guthrie and McDonald, by a miscreant to whom he had given hospitality for the night. In Santa Fé a German widow lady's house was assaulted at night, and she was gagged, outraged, and then tied to her bed-post, her son finding her so next morning, almost mad from grief and terror, and her home sacked.

A philosopher has put it on record that there are two months in a married woman's life in which she considers her husband an angel—that before her wedding, and that after his funeral.

One of the most interesting matches of this season will be played at Palermo on Thursday and Friday of this week. The Lomas Cricket Club will play the Home team for the third time this year, and as each Eleven has scored one victory, the conquering game will be hotly contested.

The Banda Oriental papers say that wheat-growing is developing fast round Paysandu. On all the estancias hundreds of acres of grain are to be seen.

The river Uruguay is now so low that the trade of Salto is seriously interfered with, as vessels cannot get near the port.

Our Cousin Jonathan has just finished the manufacture of the biggest Mule Steam Whistle in Creation: It can be heard 30 miles off, and everyone living within ten miles of it has become stone deaf.

The final result of the post-mortem on the remains of the late venerated Bishop of Cordoba shows that there was no ground for the report that he had been poisoned.

Roast or boiled turkey on a dish, with a Limerick ham beside it, is one of the pleasantest things in life, but live turkey in hundreds in the streets is a confounded nuisance, and the sooner it is put a stop to the better.

Messrs. Dewey, Nolte, Jacobsen, and all the other news-agents, have had a tremendous public rush for the Illustrated and Graphic, such is the anxiety to know the features of the "Irish Invincibles." Mr. Dewey tells us that if he had had 500 more copies, he believes he could have sold them at a heavy premium; but he never asks a premium no matter what the state of the market.

Our talented colleague Mr. Leon Walls' had a very clever article on Health and Fasting in yesterday's Courrier. He says people in Buenos Aires are getting too fat (especially the ladies) owing to eating too much and taking no exercise. We agree with him. There is more Falstaffian flesh in this city, for its size, than in any other on the globe.

It rains Tea in our sanctum. Dr. Lausen sent us from Hong Kong the other day a box of the same priceless Bohea which [illegible] the Sun and Moon and Seven [illegible] of the Stars takes every morning before he gets out of bed; and yesterday Messrs. Franzoni and Co., agents for the world-renowned Horniman Tea, sent us a packet of it, which we intend to try at breakfast this morning. Will no one send us a little Coffee, for a change?

The office of the Inspector of Gas, Mr. D. Carmody, has been removed to No. 575 Calle Alsina, fine premises. We understand that a system of inspection of all gas meters in the city will shortly be put in force, under Mr. Carmody's direction.

The evening papers announced yesterday the death of an "individuo" named Galeano, in Calle Larrea, at the age of 115 years. It is very bad taste to call any man over 100 an "individuo."

The Minister of the Interior has summarily cancelled the contract with Messrs. Rodriguez and Co. for the branch railway and wharf at Rosario, for non fulfilment.

The night being hot, there was a large and fashionable attendance at the Florida Gardens on Sunday night. The performance was magnificent.

The Swimming Races at Montevideo were won, two by Mr MacColl and one by Mr Nesbitt.

Ladies, here's a hint for you. A London colleague gives the following very simple instructions as to "How to be Beautiful"—"Whatever the internal application of hot water may effect, girls desirous of having a good complexion would do well to apply it to their faces. They should either dip their faces into a basin of very hot water or apply the water with a sponge. At first they are like lobsters, but in a few moments this is replaced by the tints of peaches and lilies."

Buenos Aires advertizers, are as a rule, not very original, with some few exceptions. Here is an advertizement, cut from an Australian paper, by a land auctioneer. We commend it to Bullrich and Baltar:—"There is not in Australia a vision so sweet as the Park called Drummoyne where the sweet waters meet."

We must warmly compliment our esteemed colleague the Tribuna Nacional on its great improvement of late, and the spirited and talented manner in which it is edited. It is now the most newsy and readable paper in town.

In our Sydney exchanges we find the following:—

"A company has been formed under the name of the Stawell Coal Company, with a capital of £60,000 in 60,000 shares of £1 each, of which 20,000 have been reserved for allotment in Melbourne; the object being to develop 1640 acres of coal land at North Shore, Newcastle. The provisional directors are the Hon. John Sutherland and Messrs A B Black, Captain E E Brett, J C Neild, and A Armstrong." Mr. E E Brett is brother to our esteemed friend Mr. de Renzie Brett, of Bella Vista, Mercedes.

Our last Latin pun was such a brilliant success that we almost embraced with effusion yesterday a classical subscriber who kindly brought us another. Here it is:

Caepe meos super omnes ad caudam
Aut ad esse homines mortuos.

We expect that some of our classical friends on the Bolsa will translate this "right off"; although the construction is somewhat peculiar, and likely to mislead those who may have partially forgotten their Latin syntax.

On Wednesday in Easter Week, two years ago, Mr Martin put Robertson's famous comedy of "School" on the boards of the Colon, and we all remember what a success he made. We cordially wish Mr M. another such triumph this coming Easter Wednesday at the National Theatre.

The German Concert on Monday night was one of the greatest triumphs of the Singing Academy. The hall was crammed to the doors, and the execution of Cherubini's Requiem was a treat which those present can never forget. It was perfect. The concert will be repeated on Saturday.

Autumn begins to-day. It looked uncommonly like heavy rain and lots of thunder yesterday evening when we were going home to dinner.

The auction of 1000 squares of land at Navarro announced for Sunday next, has been postponed till further notice.

We hear some talk of a Quarantine Congress. Something, we suppose, after the fashion of the Pedagogue Congress at the Exhibition. Yet we liked that Congress, as it afforded some rather good fun on two or three occasions. We doubt if a Quarantine Congress will afford much fun.

Many people express fears that the crowding of the churches this week will greatly spread the small-pox now prevailing in this city. The apprehension is well founded.

President Roca will remain in town during the Easter Holidays and not go to the camp as previously announced.

A visitor from the country, who has been 'doing' the sights of London, when asked what he thought of the Cathedral nave, said: "What! the fellow who took the shillings! I didn't know you call things so exactly by their proper names in London!"

The first Jewish marriage which has taken place in Madrid since the expulsion of the Jews from Spain two centuries ago was celebrated a few days since. The bride, who was wedded to her first cousin, is daughter to Mr Jones, a a foreign merchant long established in the Spanish capital. More than fifty persons, including members of the very best society in Madrid, were present at the ceremony, and Rabbi Hermann Salzedo, travelled expressly from France to celebrate the marriage.

IN RE INCERTÂ.

To the Editor of the Standard,

Sir,

This is the second time that the columns of the Standard have thrown discredit upon Mr. Ernest William White for presumed disbelief in the existence of a "Lampyris," which has excited the wonder and admiration of some nocturnal wanderers in Santa Fé and Entre Rios.

As some six hundred species of these "Lampyridæ" are already known, it is scarcely likely that anyone possessing the slightest knowledge of Entomology would refuse to entertain the possibility of an addition to the already long list, especially in these days of hyper-credulity, when the mental gulp of the public, rendered cavernous by (R)evolutionary doctrine, sees albeit in Kroa or a Sea-serpent the missing link.

I shall forward a specimen to my son in London and if on examination it should prove new to science, shall suggest the the appropriate name of "Lamparis pyrphorocephala" for it, which "W.P." and "S.W." can translate at their leisure.

I am, Sir,
Your obt. svt.,
J. W. White.

GENERAL MEETING OF THE ENG. LIT. SOCIETY.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

In reference to the paragraph in your Editor's Table of to-day, I beg to say that the Committee of the E.L.S. are in the same unpleasant position as regards their General Meeting as Mr Martin is in respect to his performance; it is impossible for us to fix any other date. We are hampered by certain restrictions that prevent us from fixing an earlier date, and the 28th is the only convenient one of the remaining days in March, during which month our rules compel us to hold our meeting.

All this is, or should be, known to our estimable Director of Entertainments, and I may say that an early intimation to our Committee of the arrangements in regard to the S. F. T. P. O. C. T. A. might have done much towards avoiding the necessity of rushing into print to tell one's trouble.

We shall hold our meeting on the date announced, in order to comply with the rules, but we all hope for Mr Martin's sake that the want of a quorum will compel us to adjourn it.

I have to thank you, Sir, for the assurance that it is not your intention to meddle with the working of our worthy institution, and in return I can only assure you that, with every sense of gratitude to those to whom it is due, the Committee of the E. L. S. on their part have no intention of allowing anyone to meddle with the working of our institution.

I am, Sir,
Your obdt. ser.
Fred. Short.

LADIES' DRESS.

Perhaps ladies who will not pay attention to what doctors and moralists say on certain points connected with their mode of dressing will listen to one of the most eminent artists of this country, whose professional duty, of course, it is to make a constant study of the beautiful. It was a good idea, therefore, of the editor of the Nineteenth Century to secure an article "On Taste in Dress," by Mr. G. F. Watts, R. A., in the present number of the magazine. An article in a periodical of this class is likely to come especially under the notice of women of education, who possess capacity and training enough to see the weight and importance of the arguments put forward in it against tight-lacing, short, pointed, high-heeled boots, gloves too small for the hands, and other abominations. Mr. Watts' paper lays down, with admirable clearness, many important principles and useful suggestions. The modern "waist" is at once his horror and almost his despair. He boldly says that "there ought to be no such thing as a waist as now understood," produced as it is by a compression which always imperils health and life, and the results of which are in many cases "distressing alike to the sense of beauty and modesty." He remarks: "Judging of the opinion of the ancient Greeks as expressed in their sculpture, a modern, ideal, well

ON 'CHANGE.

March 20th, 1883

| | |
|---|---|
| Cedulas A | 100½ |
| Cedulas E | 86½ |
| National Bank Shares | 104½ |

All stocks ruled dull and flat this morning, and the tightness of the money market is affecting the quotations of Cedulas and National Bank Shares. Over 100,000 Cedulas were sold during official hours; rates for cash opened at 86½ and closed at 86½. A few operations were effected for the end of the month at 86½, and for the end of April at 86¾. Series A is quoted firm at 100½. The Cedula market wears a heavy aspect, in spite of the great elements in the hands of the bulls in the speculation, and the tightness of money is leading many to sell the stock. On the other hand parties in want of money prefer to mortgage their properties and make applications for Series E at the Bank than pay the present high rates of interest in the market. Discounts are difficult for commercial paper, and advances are only made on the very best names.

The exchange market is very firm and rising. Fair amounts were passed on London to-day at 49⅜ to 49¾.

The National Bank Share market ruled very dull, although operations amounted to 2,550 shares during official hours. There is no spirit in the speculation, and the stock is heavy. Operators for a rise think that bottom has been touched at 104, but the stock has assumed no definite aspect and is as liable to drop as to rise. The scarcity of money is felt at the ring, more capital is wanted to throw life into the speculation. Two hundred and fifty shares changed hands for cash at 104 and 104½, closing rate. Operations for the end of the month embraced over 1,000 shares at 104 for the 21st., and 104½-½ for the 30th instant. Speculation for the end of April comprised 1,150 shares; rates opened at 105½, fell to 104½, rose again ½ and closed at 104½.

The sale of Municipal Bonds yesterday at 83½ for the 8th prox. was effected ex-dividend. The sale, in fact, shews an advance in the stock instead of a fall, of ½ o/o, as is apparent by the quotation. Complaints are still numerous, owing to the very slow proceedings of the transfer of bonds at the Municipality; many parties complain that they receive "vales" for $10 and $20 at the office, which to say the least is a most undignified proceeding. The National Government has approved of all the arrangements of the Municipality to meet the temporary service of the debt on the 1st prox.

The new shares, subscribed for cash, of the National Bank will in all probability be handed to the holders on Monday next. These shares number about 4,000.

The Camara Syndical is proceeding to the "pro rata" distribution of the new shares of the Bolsa building. Fifty per cent. of applications will be granted.

Several thousand Cedulas E were sold by a party in order to pay for lands in Loreto.

One of the chief features of the Montevidean stock market is the general fall in all stocks with the exception of the Mobiliario, which is quoted. This stock, which was launched years ago at 100 and fell to 8½ o/o or 91½ discount, is now quoted at 16. A leading Buenos Airean capitalist has made an offer of 20 o/o for three thousand shares.

One of the principal causes why the agents of the Montevidean steamers refuse to let their vessels enter the Boca is the great want of large deposits for produce. These steamers often bring 3,000 and more packages from the Mount, and as long as there are no deposits on the Riachuelo, steamers cannot be expected to enter regularly. Captain Clark, of the Nyanza, made similar complaints.

The late Cabinet meetings have been held to discuss the tenders for the completion of the City Improvement Works. Another meeting will be held to-morrow, and there are probabilities of a definite resolution in this all important question.

Telegrams from Rosario announce the sale of 1,000 fanegas of wheat at $10 with bag. The Provincial Chambers sanctioned the stipulations of $5,000,000 loan.

Mr. E. Bunge has been named Inspector of the works of the new Bolsa building.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—

For cash A 13,700 at 100½
For cash E 32,700 at 86¼-½
For March 31st A 18,900 at 100½
For March 31st E 35,000 at 86¾
For April 30th E 58,000 at 86¾
Sales, 118,300

National Bank Shares—

For cash 250 at 104-½
For March 21st 300 at 104
For March 31st 850 at 104½-¾
For April 30th 1,150 at 105¾-1-¾-½

Sales, 2,550

The Provincial and National Banks discounted yesterday $10,500,000 %. Applications at both Banks were very numerous. These discounts are helping the market.

The sailing of the R.M.S. Minho was the great business of the day; she takes a large cargo and 30 first-class passengers from this port. She takes also—

$155,675 in silver
£8,080 stg.
5,000 Fes.

Freights continue firm. There is less doing in sailing vessels, but rates are maintained.

A private bank drew largely to-day at 49⅝ for Montevidean accounts. There are few takers in the market, owing to the restriction of discounts.

The heavy shipments of gold to Montevideo of late have drawn much attention; there is little of the so-called "special" gold in the market. It is calculated that about one million patacons of specie has already been forwarded to the Mount during the month.

Mr. Grigg and Mr. Maschwitz left for Montevideo to-day.

Owing to the threatening aspect of the weather few wool-buyers turned up in the markets this morning. Business in the Plaza Constitution and Plaza Once ruled very dull. The arrivals in the Once amounted to 4,000 arrobas.

Our German Subscriber's letter in our last issue has excited much attention, and his opinions with regard to the land crisis are endorsed by all. Good land will steadily advance in value, whilst bad camps are dear at present prices.

Mr. Fair embarked in the Minho, at Montevideo.

A sale of salted hides from Podesta's was reported at afterhours, but details not known.

Speculation ruled dull during afterhours. A few hundred National Bank Shares were sold for the end of the month, and the market closed at 104 buyers. A few operations were effected for the end of April at 104½, and the market closed with sellers at that rate and buyers ½ less.

An evening colleague announces the formation of a Franco-Argentine Cattle Company with a capital of £100,000. The Company intend stocking camp in the south of this Province.

Sr. Alvarez, Argentine Minister near the Paraguayan Government, has arrived from Bahia Blanca. We hear that Sr. Alvarez has bought the island of La Trinidad, in the Bahia Blanca estuary.

Whilst referring yesterday to the sale of six leagues of camp in Lincoln at $150,000 % per league in the XVIIIth section we omitted to state that Mr. J. Arrué acted as Mr. Young's broker in this important business. Messrs. Pereyra and Nevares bought the land for Mr F. Bustamante.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne ; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne ; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthful action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhoea, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
